Objective

The 2005 Quality Summit at the Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama is scheduled April 12th and 13th in the Bob Jones Auditorium, Sparkman Center. The theme of the summit is "Incentives for Quality Improvement". The first day of the summit will consist of invited speakers from government and industry. The second day will focus on workgroups developing ideas and concepts regarding "Incentives for Quality Improvement." The workgroups will shape the inputs from participants with the goal of establishing a starting point (Outline) for future development of these topics by subgroups of the Quality Leadership Council.

Attendance Requirements

The Summit is open to industry, academia, and government. THE SUMMIT IS RESTRICTED TO U. S. CITIZENS ONLY. All U.S. citizens must provide proof of citizenship at the symposium. This means that you must bring your passport, certified birth certificate, certificate of naturalization or have your security clearance/visit request faxed. There will be no exceptions to this requirement. All government employees must present their government picture ID badge. Each non-government person must present a photo ID.
